

COX RENDERS LAST SPEECH.

Typifies Closing by His Usual Attack on Harding.

Governor Summarizes His Arguments on League.

Predicts Victory for Self and Humanity's Sake.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)
TOLEDO, Nov. 1.—Gov. Cox, in his last speech of the campaign, summarized tonight his arguments for the League of Nations which, he said, was the premier issue to be decided tomorrow at the polls. He predicted victory for himself, not as the representative of a party, but as the leader of a cause.

RENEWED ATTACK.
The Governor also renewed his attack on Senator Harding on the League issue, declaring that the Republican candidate was wiggling and wobbling and that the Senator's election would mean disaster to the country.

On his way here from Dayton, the Governor said he had stopped at Dasher, a railroad town of 3000 inhabitants, where several hundred
had gathered awaiting the Governor to see the coming of the candidate. The Governor responded with a reassuring speech, a forerunner of his argument tonight.

FAITH IN PEOPLE.
"I have always had faith in the good judgment and patriotism of the American people," the Governor said, "and an analysis of the past tells us that in all of our history whenever a moral issue has been presented it has been met with the approval of the American electorate.
If there ever was a great moral issue,
this is the cause, because the thing to be decided is whether the civilization of the world shall be illuminated by a concerted purpose to prevent the tragedies of war."

VICTORY FOR HUMANITY.
"I hope we shall have good news tomorrow night. When I say good news, I do not speak of a Democratic victory. I speak for a victory for humanity, which will be a victory for humanity worldwide, having a significance that touches every man, woman and child in the civilized powers of the earth."

A SUPERSTITION.
The Governor had no special address prepared for the meeting here,
but in it he reviewed and summarized the various arguments he had made in his transcontinental tour
of his long campaign. His visit here on election eve was in conformity with a political superstition
of party followers here, who say that the Governor's only defeat in an election was encountered when he failed to end his speech-making
in this city. Mrs. Cox and Mrs.

COX HURLS INSULT TO VOTERS AS HE CLOSSES HIS CAMPAIGN.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)

TOLEDO (O.) Nov. 1.—Gov. Cox brought his campaign to a close here just an hour and a half before the beginning of election day. The sons of the Angels at Bethlehem that he used as the closing words of his campaign, he said, would be sung again by the angels when this country entered the League.

In summarizing his arguments for the League the Governor joined with them an attack on Senator Harding, declaring that no one knows where Harding stands on the League issue. He also declared that the Republican campaign leaders had sought to win votes by every means, Senator Harding's election, the Governor added, would be a mixed mandate regarding whether this country should join the League.

"Every traitor in America," the Governor asserted in this connection, "will vote tomorrow for Warren G. Harding."
This remark caused a few hearers to leave the hall, with whom the crowd made merry as the departing voters moved toward the exit.

tion meant controversy and confusion.

The Governor and his party arrived here by special train early in the evening from Dayton and left on the return journey immediately after his speech. Tomorrow he will rest at Dayton, going to the polls with this return journey tomorrow afternoon at night he will go to his newspaper office to watch the returns.

On his way here from Dayton, the Governor said he had stopped at Dasher, a railroad town of 3000 inhabitants, where several hundred
had gathered awaiting the Governor
to see the coming of the candidate. The

suring speech, a forerunner of his

A SUPERSTITION.
The Governor had no special address prepared for the meeting here,
but in it he reviewed and summarized the various arguments he
had made in his transcontinental tour
of his long campaign. His visit
here on election eve was in conformity with a political superstition
of party followers here, who say that the Governor's only defeat in
an election was encountered when he failed to end his speech-making
in this city. Mrs. Cox and Mrs.
Dan Mahoney, daughter of the candidate, accompanied him on his trip here.

Many messages were received today by the candidate. None was made public, but it was said that they predicted the Governor's victory. The weather forecast for the country was said by members of the Governor's party to be cheerful news, predicting inclement weather in several sections where it was regarded that this would affect the Republican cause.

COLISEUM FILLED.
The Governor ran afoul of bad weather here, but the coliseum was filled and many hundreds stood in the aisles and at all exits. Congressman Sherwood of Toledo, one of the veteran members of the House of representatives, introduced Gov.
Cox as "the next President," and the crowd answered with wild applause. As the crowded ended its greetings a big floral horseshoe, bearing the inscription, "James M.
Cox, our next President," was presented to the candidate.

First Gov. Cox attacked the Republican platform, asserting that efforts were made in its preparation to please various party leaders, with the result that "absolutely nothing was left in their declaration."
The Governor reiterated charges that the Republicans sought to win votes by every means, including
"They said the negro vote would come to them practically solid," said the Governor. "There has been entirely too much about social equality for the future serenity of the nation."

BANK ESTABLISHES REDISCOUNT RATE.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 1.—The Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank today established a flat 7 per cent rate on rediscount.

The arrangement supplanted a basic rate of 6 per cent in connection with the use of the graduated rediscount rates permitted under the most recent amendment of the Federal Reserve Act.

CRISIS SEEN FOR GERMANY.

Industrial Expert Forecasts Economic Catastrophe.

Stinnes Asserts the Financial Situation is Bad.

Basic Industries Must Be Made
More Efficient.

BY CYRIL BROWN.

(BY CABLE-REUTERS DISPATCH.)
BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Hugo Stinnes, the most powerful industrial influence in Germany today, foresees a grave economic crisis, a storm probably sweeping over Germany within a few months or even weeks, and prophesies catastrophe for Germany unless the economic system of centralizing and further socialization experiments are abandoned and replaced by a real large scale of constructive measures to increase production.

PESSIMISTIC FRANKNESS.
With sensationally pessimistic frankness, Stinnes during a discussion of the socialization of Germany's coal mines, told the members of the economic council that Germany's present situation must first be judged from the viewpoint of its financial situation.

In explanation of this he reminded them that at the time of the Spa conference one could buy a dollar for 24 marks, while today a dollar costs 70 marks.

"If this development continues," he said, "we must calculate with the fact that in a few months the purchasing power of our marks will have sunk so low that we will not be able to buy any foodstuffs or raw materials with marks at all. In that case it will come to a pure barter system, a mere exchange of goods with foreign countries."

LIFE OR DEATH.
"It will be then a question of life and death for Germany whether we can produce enough. Production, however, depends on three keystone industries—coal, transportation and such things as we now buildings. We are compelled to make these basic industries more efficient. They must, under all circumstances, produce more."

DEATH FOR MILLIONS.
"Temporarily, it will only be possible through increased hours of work. I must emphasize this truth with all frankness unpleasant as it may be to hear. All industries that may be concerned in the immediate future must have the result of decreasing our production and this can only signify literal death for millions of people."

"If production is not increased, if coal continues to be rationed centrally you will keep on until there is nothing left to ration, and then that is the great misfortune that can hit us all. Germany will certainly then go to pieces."

U.S. STAND ON JAP QUESTION.

lowing note was delivered by the police at all newspaper offices:
Recently there has been a tendency in the press in consideration of the American question to indulge in defiant utterances and to insert fabrications. As it is feared that this may have undesirable results upon our foreign relations you are requested to be careful about in-serting such items in the future."

CHAMBERS'S STATEMENT.
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1.—J. A.
Chambers, chairman of the executive committee of the Japanese Exclusion League of California, speaking in reference to a statement from the State Department at Washington today on the Japanese situation, said:

The statement from the State Department to the effect that no all-Japanese legislation in California will be acceptable to the country at large which is not in accord with law and justice, was doubtless made as a friendly assurance to Japan, and was not intended to be a reflection on California, though it might be so construed.

California, as the State Department is aware, is not doing or contemplating anything which is not in strict accord with our treaty with Japan, and with the Federal Constitution and Federal law. It is not doing or contemplating anything which is unjust to the Japanese, which is not necessary for protection of American citizens and American institutions, and which is not along lines already pursued for many years past by Japan in properly protecting her people and her institutions.

TEST CASE ASSURED.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—A land suit believed to be the first test of the constitutionality of the California anti-alien land law of 1913 will go to trial in the United States District Court here shortly, as the result of the court's refusal today to strike out the answer of the defend-ent, Howard G. Hanvey, objecting to completion of the sale for fear the land would fall into the hands of a Japanese.

Hanvey was sued by Robert H.
Strahan of New York to compel completion of the sale of ten acres of land in Santa Clara county. He answered that he had refused because of his discovery that Strahan was buying the property for an undisclosed principal, in violation of the anti-alien land law.

Strahan in turn moved that the answer be stricken out, on the ground that the anti-alien land law was unconstitutional and a violation of the Japanese treaty of 1911.

Attorneys in the case said today an appeal would be taken to the United States Supreme Court, whatever the outcome.

Judge Robert S. Bean, in his ruling today, said that while, as a trial judge, he felt the constitutionality of the law should be decided either in State court or the United States Supreme Court, he would allow the suit to go on trial since on the face of the trial the law did not appear to be unconstitutional.

GAGE TAKES A SHOT AT ANTI-ALLEN LAW.

FORMER TREASURY SECRETARY
DECLARES PROPOSED
ACT VIOLATES TREATY.

Lyman J. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury in President McKinley's Cabinet, in a parting shot against the passage of the alien land law (initiative act No. 1) has the following to say:

FOURTY LOMA (San Diego) Oct. 30, 1920.
Pacific-American League,
226 San Fernando Bldg.,
Los Angeles.

Gentlemen: I am opposed to the law because it is a betrayal of the Japanese, who came here by virtue of a treaty between the United States and Japan, which the Constitution declares to be the supreme law of the land; unwise because, if made operative, it would seriously reduce the production of the California by cutting the Japanese from the land, and because it creates suspicion, doubt and distrust between two nations, whose relations ought to be cordial, kindly and reciprocal. It is futile because it is in violation with our treaty and the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution. Let us vote it down and wait until 1922, when the existing treaty between the United States and Japan expires and we of California may have any kind of a treaty that our influence with the Department of State and the United States Senate may then warrant.

LYMAN J. GAGE
GOVERNMENT TO CLOSE
HOG ISLAND SHIPYARD.

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Hog Island shipyard at Philadelphia, built at a cost to the government of about $70,000,000, will be closed February
1 unless disposed of by that date,
Chairman Benson announced tonight at the Shipping Board.

Failure of the board to receive more than two bids approximating $4,000,000 each for the purchase of the yard, probably due, the chairman said, to a tight money market or the proximity of the election. He added, however, that he had reason to believe that several large concerns were interested and he expected proposals from them.

HARDING WILL VOTE EARLY.

Feature of the election in which he has taken particular concern.
Although he has spent most of the last month on the stump Mr.
Harding finishes the campaign in robust condition physically.

In all, since his nomination in June, the Senator has made 151 speeches, long and short. By far the greatest number of them were delivered from the rear platform of his train during his travels over sixteen States. Thirty-three were delivered from the front porch and thirty-six at other places in Ohio.

MRS. HARDING CHEERFUL.
Mrs. Harding, who has been at his side during every speech, has been herself unusually about his headquarters in Marion, has not been so fortunate as her husband in escaping the ill effects of travel and campaign excitement. During the last trip, which ended Saturday night in Columbus, she took a heavy cold and today she remained in bed until nearly noon. She said tonight that she expected to go to the polls tomorrow with Mr. Harding and her first vote would be for him for the Presidency.

After election day there will be a vacation for the Senator and his wife, but detailed plans for it have not yet been announced.

At his home in the evening he will be given the returns by the Associated Press, whose leased wire has been established during the campaign at press headquarters, a few steps from the Harding front porch. In the circle gathered with the Senator during the evening will be his father and sisters, Mrs. Harding and Mr. Daugherty.

Tonight Mr. Harding retired at his usual hour. As has been his custom for many years, he read himself to sleep, choosing for his reading tonight a novel of American adventure.

SUGAR DOWN IN NEW YORK

(BY A. P. MIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Am-Broca today announced a further reduction of half a cent a pound in the price of fine granulated sugar to the basis of 16.50 cents, making a new low record for the season.
The decline was brought about by a further reduction in raw sugar.

WHITE APPEALS TO REPUBLICANS

Asks That They Vote for League, Not Party.

Would Consider It American, Not Partisan, Victory.

Says Harding's Way Cannot Come to Pass.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WEBB)
 NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, tonight addressed a "final appeal to the Republican voters" of the country.

He urged them, when they enter the polls tomorrow, to ask themselves this question: "Has the Republican party more claim on me than the peace of the world? Shall I permit the mistakes of party leaders to sacrifice the League of Nations?"

"To this question," said Mr. White, "there is but one answer in the hearts of the millions of patriotic men and women who make up the Republican party. It is 'No.'"

And yet the Republican party managers are asking the voters to sacrifice world peace for party policies. Senator Harding has finally and definitely decided to stand with his managers and Senate leaders, rejecting the League, whatever restoration are proposed and accepted, junking the Treaty of Versailles, tendering to Germany a separate peace and summoning another peace conference.

THE ONLY COURSE
 "This is the inevitable course which he must follow, since he has stated that he will not rescind the treaty and the covenant to the Senate."

"If he should be able to induce the forty-one nations now signatory to the treaty to tear it up and frame another, it would require at least two years before another peace could be ratified, and it is generally admitted by such constant international authorities as Messrs. Taft and Root that what Senator Harding proposes is impossible. Therefore we shall have the treaty and League destroyed, a separate peace with Germany and militarists as free to prey on humanity as they were in 1914."

"Republican voters have the power to prevent this. They have the power to save their own party from the common fate and general menace of war which the election of Senator Harding will engender."

"It will be a greater victory for them if peace is insured than if Republicans partnership is successful. I would consider it an American and not a Democratic victory. I appeal to them to do it. I feel confident they will."

MEAT PACKERS WILL OPPOSE INCREASE.

WARN RAILROADS THEY WILL FIGHT RISES IN CHARGES AND RATES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WEBB)
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Institute of American Meat Packers announced today that it had in effect served notice upon the railroads that attempts to increase charges and rates to an unreasonable and unjustifiable extent will be met with vigorous opposition.

With a score of other shippers, the announcement said, the packers today protested to the Interstate Commerce Commission against new demurrage rates filed by the carriers, effective December 1, and asked a hearing.

"These are the same tariffs the railroads recently sought to impose on less than the regular statutory rate of thirty days," the statement said, adding that the commission had denied the plea. The proposal of the roads to increase demurrage charge by a dollar a day for the first seven days and by 75 cents a day for every day thereafter.

"Alleged detention figures quoted by the carriers," the statement continued, "were based on anticipated statistics and did not disclose true facts."

"Subnormal and crippled yard service throughout the country, together with bunched deliveries, account for much of the detention actually chargeable to the carriers, but for which the shippers of the country would be penalized under the proposed increases."

NATIONAL CITY BANK GETS GOLD IN LONDON.

The price paid was 118 shillings, 8 pence an ounce, net, with shipment of the metal in October, November and December, the dispatch added.

BOARD RECOMMENDS 100 PER CENT DIVIDEND

(BY A. P. NIGHT WEBB)
 BOSTON, Nov. 1.—A stock dividend of 100 per cent was recommended by the board of directors of the United Fruit Company today. It was voted that a dividend of 14 shares be paid January 15. This would be equivalent to $8 a share on the present basis.

The United Fruit Company, a New Jersey corporation, is capitalized at $75,000,000, of which $30,312,500 is reported to be outstanding.

LANDSLIDE FOR HARDING SURE.

Washington, 75,000; New Hampshire, 15,000; West Virginia, 80,000; New Jersey, 30,000; Wisconsin, 150,000; New Mexico, 100; Wyoming, 100; New York, 300,000.

States in which the Republicans may fail to realize these expectations are Colorado, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Utah and West Virginia. Last reports from correspondents are that the Republicans have a shade better chance in Colorado, Missouri, Maryland and West Virginia, while Cox has the apparent advantage in Kentucky, Montana and Nevada with Utah an unknown quantity. Only an old-fashioned landslide, of course, would be likely to carry nearly all these States into the Republican column.

WANT GOOD WEATHER.
 Republican hopes of carrying Kentucky are based on their ability to get out the full vote, including the newly enfranchised women, in the mountain country, which is the Republican stronghold of the State. If the weather should make it impossible for the mountaineers to be able to reach the polls in sufficient number to far the normal Democratic margin in this border commonwealth.

Widespread Democratic dissatisfaction with the Wilson regime in the South apparently is going to result in considerable Jeffersonian defection and a corresponding increase in the proportion of the Republican vote below Mason and Dixon's line. It is this development which has caused the Republican leaders to entertain strong hopes of carrying North Carolina and Tennessee as well as all the border States, for Harding and Coolidge.

On the eve of the balloting, however, it is significant that the Republican managers are no longer counting on even Tennessee, in which the Republican vote appeared better than in North Carolina. The Republicans will congratulate themselves if they should carry all of the border States, in which their chances of victory may be ranked in this order: Missouri, West Virginia, Maryland and Kentucky.

SPECULATE ON WOMEN.
 There is much speculation as to how the women will cast their ballots at this first national election since their full enfranchisement. This is an unknown quantity which will keep the political leaders guessing all the while the votes are counted.

The Republican managers think they have good reason to believe the women will divide in favor of Harding and Coolidge, in greater proportion than will the men. The Democratic managers prefer to believe that it will be just the reverse and that the women will vote overwhelmingly for Cox on the League of Nations issue. The last stage of the campaign has been concentrated upon winning the woman vote, in the Far Western States, which enable Wilson to put through in 1918.

The only real test of the sentiment of the women was the Maine Congressional and State election in September, which the Republicans carried by the unprecedented plurality of 45,000. At first it looked as if about 80 per cent of the women had voted the Republican ticket in an election which the Democrats sought to win on the League question. The cabinet members and the Democratic candidate for Vice-President stumped the State, practically confessing their appeals to support of the President's stand on the covenant.

ANALYSIS OF RETURNS.
 A more careful analysis of the returns, however, disclosed that thousands of men in Maine, who were normally Democrats, had deserted their party and voted the Republican ticket. The indications, therefore, were that the women divided in favor of the Republicans in a much greater proportion than had the men.

If Cox should be elected today nobody would be more surprised than the Democratic managers themselves. The confidence they had on the eve of the balloting four years ago is wholly wanting. They cannot figure out a possible chance for Cox on any other basis than a repetition of Wilson's feat in winning with Ohio and the Far West in 1912, and that they know is a slender rod on which to lean this year.

The Republicans are united, as in the days prior of 1912, while the Democrats have been struggling against the disadvantages of party schism, unpopularity of the Wilson administration, and a decided trend of sentiment against the Wilson League of Nations.

Democratic lack of confidence has been reflected from the start in the difficulty of the Cox managers in raising campaign funds. Four years ago more than 300,000 Democrats contributed to a campaign fund, which total $1,300,000. That was an impressive reflection of party confidence. This year the Democrats with the utmost exertion have collected less than $1,000,000 from contributors, numbering less than the 50,000.

Banking Confederate Officer Dies.
 BARTOW (Fla.) Nov. 1.—Maj. Gen. E. M. Law, ranking surviving officer of the Confederate Army, died here yesterday.

The producer of raw material, the labor leader, the makers of railroad tariffs, have all demanded and received, since 1914, great increases in the amount spent by manufacturers for material, labor and transportation.

But the advocates of Advertising are not in a position to demand. Advertising is not indispensable.

When the banker puts on the screws of conservatism and retrenchment, the quickest and easiest place to effect a "saving" is in the advertising appropriation.

The "gain" is immediate and the loss is gradual and cannot be proved anyway.

Men who are steadfast in their advertising are either gifted with imagination or protected by having been born resolute.

HARDING AT HOME.
 Senator Harding of Ohio, standard-bearer of the Republican party, today retired to his home in Marion to await the decision of his countrymen.

To his party managers he left detailed forecast of the vote and from Chairman Hays of the Republican National Committee, there was forthcoming tonight reiteration of confidence in a Republican victory. Hays, however, issued no formal statement, announcing that he chose to remain mute until the ballots had been counted.

Gov. Cox, also Ohio's native son, selected by the Democratic party as its choice for the White House, tonight delivered his final campaign address in Toledo and returned to his home in Dayton. Conviction that he will be elected was expressed in a final statement today by Chairman White of the Democratic National Committee.

Senator Harding and Gov. Cox, follow newspaper proprietors, have chosen different ways to receive campaign results. With Mr. Harding the Senator will receive at their home bulletin compiled by the Associated Press, keeping them advised of the totals.

RETURNS AT OFFICE.
 Gov. Cox, on the other hand, will receive election returns at his office in the Dayton Daily News, a member of the Associated Press, where special telegraph instruments, including a receiver used in the Cleveland campaign of more than a quarter of a century ago, have been set up. Chairman Hays and White, together with other Republican and Democratic leaders, will gather at their respective headquarters here tomorrow night to receive the returns.

In Boston, capital of the State whose chief executive he is, Calvin Coolidge, Republican Vice-President nominee, will learn whether or not next year he is to move to Washington.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant Secretary of the Navy and Democratic opponent of Gov. Coolidge, will watch the progress of the struggle from his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

WILL GET NEWS IN CELL.
 Eugene V. Debs, Presidential candidate of the Socialist party, nominated to run with Seymour Steadman, Chicago lawyer, will have the unusual experience of receiving returns from an election in which he is a candidate while in a prison cell. He is in the Atlanta Penitentiary, where he is confined for violation of the Espionage Act. While his party leaders hold no hope of capturing electoral votes, they express conviction that they will poll a vote two or three times as great as that of 1914. In a Presidential year unique in the number of parties with candidates in the field other contenders for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency are.

Prohibition, Aaron S. Watkins and Leigh Colvin.

Farmer-Labor, Parley F. Christensen and Max Hayer.

Single Tax, Robert C. Macaulay and Richard C. Barnum.

Socialist-Labor, William W. Cox and August Gillhaup.

In all, 531 members of the electoral college will have to be chosen and of these 266 will be required for election of a Presidential candidate. In the last election President Wilson had 277.

ACTRESS IS DIVORCED FROM SONG-WRITER.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 MT. VERNON (N. Y.) Nov. 1.—Mrs. Hope L. Snyder, a cinema actress, was granted a divorce here from her husband, Theodore F. Snyder, song writer of New York, another actress being named as co-respondent.

Mrs. Snyder just loved her husband's song "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary," until she learned that the piece was dedicated not to her, but to another.

The Easiest Way

Whenever our country experiences a money flurry, many advertising appropriations are curtailed and some stopped altogether.

The producer of raw material, the labor leader, the makers of railroad tariffs, have all demanded and received, since 1914, great increases in the amount spent by manufacturers for material, labor and transportation.

But the advocates of Advertising are not in a position to demand. Advertising is not indispensable.

GRAIN IMPORT SHOWS A GAIN.

Wheat from Canada for Early October Increases.

Federal Trade Commission Report Reveals Figures.

Statement Based on Investigation as Ordered.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Imports of Canadian wheat and flour during the first fifteen days of October were more than three times greater than in any corresponding period in the past, according to a report today to President Wilson. The report was based on an investigation ordered by President Wilson, after he had been asked by Gov. Allen of Kansas to place an embargo on wheat imports from Canada.

The commission found that 4,950,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and 45,946 barrels of Canadian flour had been shipped into the United States during the first fifteen days of last month.

RECORD IS SET.
"The largest October importations of this period amounted to only 1,544,000 bushels," the committee said. "That was in 1915. They are also at a rate considerably greater than the importations in the month of January, 1918, when the imports aggregated 7,339,000. This was the largest monthly importation from Canada, from the years 1912 and 1913."

"In respect to the wheat flour, the imports from Canada during the first fifteen days of October, 1920, were considerably over half of those during the entire month of September, 1918, when the quantity imported was greater than in any month during the seven years prior to 1919."

Members of the commission stated that the investigation was being prepared.

Exports to Asia in September were valued at $37,874,485, compared with $47,167,464 in August. While imports were $33,735,743, compared with $126,307,321 the month before.

The trade balance against this country for the month was approximately $60,000,000. Japan cut her imports from this country in September to nearly half in August. The figures showed $9,904,597 for September and $18,539,339 for August. Japan shipped to the United States goods valued at $35,652,525, compared with $40,359,428 in August.

Exports and imports to the principal European countries in September were:

Great Britain, exports, $142,485,693, compared with $119,505,519 in August; imports, $24,224,801, compared with $12,254,470 in August.

France, exports, $47,204,684, compared with $38,321,950 in August; imports, $12,254,470, against $15,145,457 in August.

Germany, exports, $19,796,749, compared with $12,254,470 in August; imports, $12,254,470, against $15,145,457 in August.

For the nine months ending September, exports to Europe were valued at $3,298,767,495, against $3,181,815,827 the same period of the year before, while imports were $295,584,164, compared with $452,545,727 the same period of the year before.

Imports from South America for the nine months' period totaled $637,754,298, compared with $481,124,454 for the first nine months of 1919.

CREIT CREW FIGHTS OFF BOSTON OFFICERS.

LIQUOR AND DRUGS FOUND SECRETLY: ARMED SAILORS CALLED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Customs officers who made a raid on the White Star liner Cretic today for contraband liquor were set upon by members of the crew and beaten back with crowbars and other weapons. Police boats and a detail of patrolmen responded on a riot call, and a request was made on the navy for a squad of Marines.

With the aid of a detail of sailors, the officials overpowered the crew, some of whom attempted to resist with knives and found 400 bottles of cognac under the floor of the engine room and 400 bottles were removed yesterday. A quantity of drugs secreted in garb also was found.

REPORTS CONFLICT ON UNITY.

Peking Declares Rebellion is Over; Other Side Denies Proclamation.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PEKING, Nov. 1.—The Peking government has just issued a proclamation declaring that there has been a reunion of North and South China, and calling for the election of a new parliament, on the basis of the old election regulations. The proclamation cites an announcement by Gen. Tsen Chun Huan, the chief of the southern military government, of the dissolution of that government, and the renunciation by the provinces of Kwang Tung and Kwang Hai of their aspirations of independence.

This Peking proclamation has elicited a manifesto from the constitutionalist leader, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, and Tang Shao Yi, at Shanghai, declaring the Constitutional government was still in existence, and that they did not recognize the Peking proclamation as having any force. The alleged unity it declared, was based upon a peace agreement made by "irresponsible persons," and the manifesto charges that the proclamation constitutes an attempt to deceive foreigners for ulterior purposes, and give life to an illegal government.

The view of the situation here is that the Peking government has hope of conciliating the southern factions.

Pay Homage to Memory of Former Mikado.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
TOKIO, Nov. 1.—Tokio was the scene of a remarkable spontaneous manifestation of loyalty when a shrine for the memory of the late Emperor Meiji was opened from morning until midnight. Enormous crowds streamed to the shrine to worship the spirit of the departed Meiji.

The broad two-mile approach to the shrine, an extraordinary spectacle as the double column of pilgrims, ten to fifteen abreast, streamed to and from the shrine. With simple and semiprivate ceremonies, the chief priest received the growing out of Federal representatives. Yoshitake the name tablets of the deceased Emperor and installed the shrine. Tomorrow Emperor Yoshihito and the Empress will worship at the shrine.

Eight Are Killed in Election Clashes; Zayas Leads Gomez.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

HAVANA, Nov. 1.—Charles Hernandez, Secretary of the Interior, announced official returns from 257 precincts outside of Havana gave Zayas a lead of 2255. He conceded Havana province, including the city, to Gomez. Officials claim that in Havana city Gomez's majority will exceed 7000.

HAVANA, Nov. 1.—Eight persons were killed in local clashes in the provinces during the elections today, according to reports received here. The followers of Gomez started a demonstration in Havana after the elec-total board had temporarily closed its office without any official returns having been received.

Delay in reporting the result of the first precincts counted led to many sensational rumors, one of which was that the telegraph wires had been cut.

The followers of Dr. Zayas were not discouraged by the Gomez demonstration and started one of their own.

At Liberal and Coalition headquarters the forces gathered in great numbers to celebrate, despite the absence of official information. Some of the newspapers supporting one or the other candidates issued extras claiming the election, although the independent or nonpartisan

Journalists declared it impossible to predict the result tonight.

The American Minister, Ross W. Long, denied a report published by one of the newspapers supporting Zayas that American bankers would not lend Cuba $50,000,000 if Gomez won.

"The government of the United States," the Minister said, "continues its position of absolute neutrality, as always maintained in Cuban political affairs. Economic questions have nothing to do with political questions."

Excellent Training for Pack Mules Given.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CAMP STANLEY (Tex.) Nov. 1.—Marching a distance of approximately 1100 miles for the purpose of testing the wearing and other qualities of four different kinds of gun-carrying pack saddles is the feat just accomplished by a provisional mountain battery of the Fourth Field Artillery, United States Army. It was the longest march ever made by mountain artillery, it is stated by army men who are stationed at Camp Stanley.

This test was notable in several respects, besides that of proving the durability of the pack saddles. It served as an endurance test of both men and animals. The little cavalry, in command of Col. Selah Tompkins, numbered 184 enlisted men, seven officers and 190 mules. The departure was made from Camp Stanley six months ago. The objective point was Fort Sill, Okla., about 550 miles.

The fact that the march from Camp Stanley to Fort Sill was during the intense heat of summer made it all the more a test of endurance. No attempt was made at fast traveling. The daily marching schedule was largely a matter of convenience. An interesting feature was the training which the pack mules received. In the beginning they had to be led by enlisted men on horseback, but before long the animals were allowed full freedom and they followed the mounted leaders without guidance.

When the battery arrived at Camp Stanley the stay-at-home men and officers of the regiment gave a rousing welcome to the marchers, including a big dinner and a band concert.

The Fourth Regiment is the only mountain artillery in the United States, there being one other in the Philippines, composed of Philippine Scouts. They carry special guns of 2.5 caliber and these, together with all of the equipment and ammunition, is transported on the pack mules. A report will be made to the chief of artillery later on the observations of the trip.

AGED TEXAS WOMAN IS NOTED PHYSICIAN.

AT SEVENTY IS ONLY RAILROAD SURGEON IN STATE; BORN IN VIENNA.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
BRASORIA (Tex.) Nov. 1.—Dr. Sophia Herzog Huntington of Brasoria, has the distinction of being the only woman railroad surgeon in Texas. Ever since the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico Railroad was built, about eighteen years ago, she has been surgeon of the division that runs between Houston and Kingsville. Time without number she has been called upon to make journeys to scenes of accidents and administer to the injured.

Dr. Huntington is a native of Austria, and received her medical education in Vienna, where she practiced before coming to New York. She resided in the latter city for several years, and attained a position of prominence there.

Since she came to this section of Texas she has formed a wide acquaintance among the people, and her services are in great demand, notwithstanding the fact that she is now 70 years old.

One of Dr. Huntington's most prized possessions is a necklace made of bullets, which she has extracted from people in Brasoria county. There are twenty-six in the string, ranging in size from .32 to .45 caliber.

Dr. Huntington is the mother of fifteen children, and her records show that she has attended to 1733 cases of childbirth in Brasoria county. Her records were much in demand after the passage of the draft act, as she could tell the age of nearly all the children around Brasoria, and in some cases the parents had forgotten the age.

LEAVES GIRL WITH FRIEND; HE WEDS HER.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—"Take care of her a while," Earl E. Leon of 32 Catharine street told his friend John DeLagaria, putting him in charge of his fiancée, Rose Vraspidon, while he went to "square her father."

After twenty-four hours during which Leon was arrested on a charge of abduction, he returned to find his friend had married the girl.

CLAIMS COPS EAT UP ALL HIS PROFITS.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
HAMMOND (Ind.) Nov. 1.—An East Chicago baker complains that the policemen on the beat stop in and eat doughnuts sometimes, as many as two dozen a time, and get to pay for them.

During the last two weeks the baker says the cops ate 325 choice doughnuts.

MEXICO TO PAY IN BENTON CASE.

Great Britain Agrees to Accept Settlement.

Widow of Mari Villa Killed to Get $10,000.

Also Will Receive $2.50 a Day While Single.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Great Britain has agreed to a settlement of the claim against Mexico growing out of the killing of William S. Benton, a British subject, near Juarez, Feb. 17, 1914. Mexico is to pay $10,000 cash to Mrs. Benton and a pension of $3.50 a day as long as Mrs. Benton remains unmarried.
Cunard Cummins, British representative in Mexico City, concluded the agreement with the present Mexican government. It was learned today in official circles.
Benton, whose wife is a native of Mexico, was killed when he went to Francisco Villa's headquarters to protest against outrages committed by Villistas in the Juarez section. The American government was looking after British interests in Chihuahua State at the time and the British Minister immediately asked the State Department to conduct an investigation.
EXONERATED BY CARRANZA.
Carranza exonerated Villa at the time, but American Consul Edwards at Juarez reported that Benton was killed at Villa's headquarters and this later was confirmed by George C. Caruthers, American consular agent. It always has been understood here that the Benton case was one of the principal reasons for refusal of the government to recognize the Carranza regime. The Mexican government plans to take over the coal mines in the Subina basin to relieve the coal shortage pending an agreement between miners and owners, according to reports received today by the Department of Commerce. The railroads are now buying coal in the United States wherever possible, the report said.

HOOVER-JOHNSON DISPUTE. Controversy in San Francisco Over League of Nations Issue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Senator Johnson, "irreconcilable" in the League of Nations fight, and Herbert Hoover in statements issued tonight took issue with each other as to the stand Senator Harding has or will assume in the League of Nations controversy.
Senator Johnson issued the first statement: He declared, "Mr. Harding says he has turned his back upon the League," and that "Mr. Hoover says Mr. Harding is going into the League." "I believe Mr. Harding," said Johnson's statement, "is a man of honor and integrity, and I believe he will stand by his word." "Somebody has misled Senator Johnson, as to my statement made here (Palo Alto on Sunday)." His statement as to Senator Harding's position may refer to his views on the League; it is not in accord with his own expressed constructive views on the League, an association or a society of nations, which Senator Harding proposed to go into and which alone I have been discussing. "Republican discussion, except by Senator Johnson, has now gone beyond destructive criticism of the League; it is now upon devising a 'League' or an association that will protect the position of the United States and truly accomplish the preservation of peace."
Senator Johnson's statement follows: "Mr. Harding says he has turned his back upon the League; that he desires neither reservations nor interpretations, but rejection of it. The United States wherever possible, the report said.

DOCK WORKERS' STRIKE.

YERLA CRUZ (Mex.) Nov. 1.—Disaffection with the provisional settlement of the strike of stevedores and dock workers here announced yesterday, has been expressed by the Chambers of Commerce and industry and the Association of Shippers.
They declare the arrangement could not be accepted completely until the authorities provided guarantees for men to work when and where they pleased, as is provided in the constitution of the republic.

CONDITIONS IMPROVE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
EAGLE PASS (Tex.) Nov. 1.—Conditions in Mexico are very promising, but transportation facilities continue badly demoralized, according to W. N. Whitendon, chief operating officer of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, who arrived here today after a two weeks' tour of Mexico.
"Lack of transportation is all that is holding Mexico back," Whitendon said before leaving for Dallas. He declined to comment on reports that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road was seeking direct connection with Mexico.

SAYS DEMOCRATS WILL MAKE GAINS IN HOUSE.

CHAIRMAN FLOOD RIDICULES CLAIMS MADE BY REPUBLICAN OFFICIAL.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Chairman Flood of the Democratic National Committee issued a statement tonight resuming his claim that the Democrats would overturn the Republican majority in the House.
Referring to the election prediction by Chairman Fess of the Republican Congressional Committee, Flood said this was the most glaring of many striking examples of Republican misrepresentation and misstatement.
"He says the Republican gain of twenty members in certain States will result from gains of 'one member' in the House."

ber each in Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Michigan and Nebraska." Flood said, "Mr. Fess apparently does not know there are now four Republican members of the House from Maine. Where would he make a gain of one member from that State as he predicts?"
"Continuing his wild claim, Fess says the Republicans will gain two members each from Kansas and Ohio, and three members each from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. If the Republican chairman had cared to inform himself before he made this ridiculous statement he would have discovered that the Kansas delegation now consists of seven Republicans and but one Democrat. Whence does the senatorial figure he will gain two members of the House in this delegation?"

WOMAN'S PARTY HEAD ISSUES STATEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Election day clinches woman's right to a voice in the government and marks the final triumph of the suffrage cause, Alice Paul, national chairman of the Woman's party, said tonight.
"When millions of women have cast their ballots at the polls," Miss Paul explained, "the amendment will be placed beyond all danger of legal attack. While suffrage was ratified too late for women to take an effective part in this year's campaign, by the next national election they will be able to be organized and be a decisive factor in the results."

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY IN ARIZONA.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PHOENIX, Nov. 1.—Both Democratic and Republican State headquarters tonight claimed victory in tomorrow's election. Andrew J. Baumert, Jr., secretary of the Republican State Committee, said Harding and Coolidge would carry Arizona and that Gov. Campbell would be re-elected by a larger majority than before.
M. H. McCalla, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, said Senator Marcus A. Smith would be re-elected by a majority of 8000 to 3500 and that county reports indicated the entire Democratic State ticket would be elected.

CHARGE SANTA CRUZ MAN WITH MURDER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 1.—Fred De la Perdre was formally accused of murdering Patrolman John Whalen of Watsonville in an information filed in Superior Court here today. His arraignment was set for Wednesday after R. H. Hudson and C. B. Younger had been appointed to conduct his defense.

CONDUCTOR WINS NOBEL PRIZE.

Once Guardian of Horse Car Awarded for His Literary Achievement.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Knut Hamsun, Norwegian author, who was a conductor on the Halstead-street horse-car line here back in the early eighties, has won the 1920 Nobel prize for literature, friends learned today.
Hamsun was discharged from the car line because he read books instead of collecting fares and ringing bells. He returned to Norway in the early nineties and in 1892 brought out his first volume.

CLEAR WAY FOR TUNNEL WORK.

Council Denies Objections to Second-Street Job.

Orders Corrected Assessment List Made Up at Once.

Means Dirt Will Fly by New Year, Says Contractor.

All objections filed against the assessments as levied for the Second-street tunnel were denied yesterday by the City Council, and Maj. W. G. Schreiber, chief assessment clerk, was instructed to bring in a corrected assessment to provide for minor changes in charges against several parcels of land on Huntley Drive.
It is expected that the revised assessment will be filed and confirmed not later than Wednesday, following which the city will begin at once to collect the assessments to provide funds so that Contractor John Hayes may start work on the tunnel. Mr. Hayes believes that except for unforeseen delays, construction work should start about January 1.
The City Council will hear protests at 10 a.m. tomorrow against the confirmation of the assessment for the widening of Second street from Hill to Olive streets, which will provide a street for the north side of the Second-street tunnel to the top of the new structure.

SOUTH DAKOTA SNOW MAY HOLD DOWN VOTE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SIOUX FALLS (S.D.) Nov. 1.—Eleventh-hour tactics mark the political campaign in South Dakota. The strongest contests of the year are being waged for the ballots of various groups and classes.
A severe snowstorm is expected to reduce the rural vote to a large extent. The Nonpartisan League has its greatest strength in rural districts.

Never Before

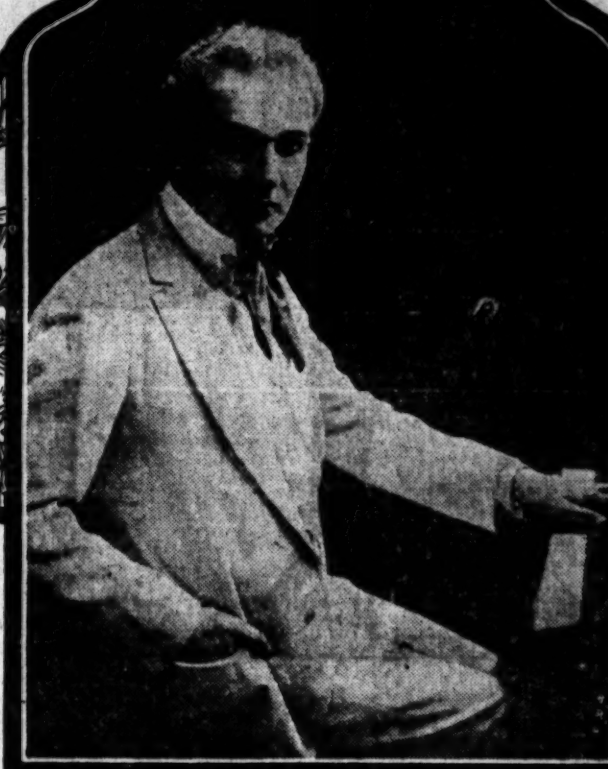

in history, probably, has a saner bit of business advice been offered the American public than that contained in the following excerpt from resolutions just adopted by the American Bankers' Association at its annual convention in Washington, D. C. This bank believes that it is rendering a public service in causing the same to be printed:

"We regard most of the pressing business problems of the day as the inevitable aftermath of war and to be treated as passing phases of a period of reconstruction, through which we must pass patiently in the full assurance that it is but temporary, although necessary. The billions of wealth lost in the waste of war and the millions of lives detained from productive effort have created gaps in the world's capital which only time can fill. As the richest nation in the world, facing the harvesting of bumper crops on a sound financial basis and operating as a free people, the oldest republic in the civilized world, with almost unlimited resources and opportunities awaiting our improvement, this country faces a future of assured prosperity which can only be threatened by internal strife or lack of leadership and intelligent co-operation. In the United States, the heir of all the ages, lies the hope of the world. Duty and opportunity alike call to its realization. A fidelity to the ancient standards of sanity, honesty and experience, which refuses to be misled by Utopian dreams or economic will o' the wisps, can withstand all the dangers of world reaction and maintain the order upon which alone a sound future can be rebuilt."

NOTED MANSION BEING REPAIRED

Home of Mexico's Wealthiest Man Badly Wrecked.

Gen. Luis Terrazas Has Ordered Things Restored.

Aged Owner Wants to Spend Last Years There.

(REUTERS DISPATCH) CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) Nov. 1.—When Gen. Luis Terrazas, in former years widely known as the wealthiest man in Mexico, fled from here nearly ten years ago to evade capture and possible death at the hands of the revolutionists, he left behind a residence of regal magnificence. The building and its contents fell into the hands of vandals and every movable thing was carried off. To-day many artisans are employed in rehabilitating, to some degree, at least, the once palatial home, preparatory to the return of Gen. Terrazas from his long period of enforced exile, most of which he spent in Los Angeles and El Paso.

PROSPERITY PROVERBS No. 8

IN the 14th century, when superstition and a belief in witchcraft worked a big influence in the lives of people, the horse shoe was widely employed as an omen of good luck, and depended upon to bring happiness and success.

That old tradition has endured even to the present day to some extent, and there are still many who are "trusting to luck" that they will "strike it rich" and in some way be provided for in old age.

But the wise ones are building on a more solid foundation than luck. They are using common horse sense, and saving a part of present income while their earning power is still unimpaired.

The principal details of his ranches, aggregating several millions of acres. Three large suites that were in this private office when he hurriedly departed were looted and their doors are now standing open as mute evidence of the work of the vandals. Porcelain bathtubs, of which there were more than twenty in the different family and guest rooms, were torn loose from their fastenings and carried off. Doors of valuable wood were unhinged and cut up for firewood. The big house is now only a shell of its former self, but the painters and decorators are working to restore it to something of its original beauty.

The large and handsome residence of the three sons of Gen. Terrazas—Juan, Alberto and Luis, Jr.—suffered worse depredations and destruction than that which was inflicted upon the home of the general. The home of Juan Terrazas was burned and nothing remains but the walls. All the contents of the residence of Alberto were stolen, but the building was not burned, as it was devoted to use for a school, to which purpose it is still devoted. The country homes of the members of the Terrazas family were either turned over to peons or were used as barracks for soldiers.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS THE WOMAN JURY.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

A man who has been arrested for wife-beating and was out on bail fled the country when he found he was going to be tried by a jury of women.

Obviously he thought that what they would do to him would be something with boiling oil in it, and without doubt his fears were well founded. One can readily believe that there are certain crimes, such as wife-beating and desertion and failure to support, and so on, from which women have suffered so long, in which the culprit would be given the limit of the law, and then some, every time by a feminine jury.

Perhaps the woman jury will break up these misdeemeanors. Surely a brutish husband will hardly consider that the pleasure of blacking his wife's eye is worth the stiff sentence in the workhouse that a woman jury would hand him. Surely the man who has the habit of fading away from home when a new baby appears on the scene and leaving his wife to support the family will think twice and then stick to his job if he knows that when the long arm of the law hauls him back a feminine jury is going to make a warning of him to other husbands with wandering feet.

Surely the man who was born too tired to work and who lets his wife take in washing to support him will decide that it is better to get busy and hand over most of his pay envelope to the "missus" than to put up with the punishment that a woman jury had decided for the crime of loafing.

Of course there are those who have long prophesied that women jurors would be overruled to men who are on trial, but this undue clemency would never apply to the crimes committed against the peace and happiness of the home. The man who sins against that can count on getting his without fail when twelve good women and true pass judgment on his delinquency.

In all good truth the woman jury is one of the greatest blessings we are going to get from the granting of suffrage to woman, and it will make for intelligent justice in a thousand different ways.

It has always been absurd that under a system that makes the jury system the palladium of our liberty, and that guarantees to every accused individual a trial by a jury of his peers, women have been tried by men juries exclusively.

For no one will contend that a

Making More Money.

Facing Want "After Forty," Woman Makes Knowledge of Birds Earn Her Good Living.

Most women who start out to earn their own living do so when they are at least comparatively young. Advancing years may find them still dependent upon a salary or the result of their own individual efforts, but they seldom launch into a commercial career after the age of forty.

It was different, however, in the case of Mrs. Etta Wilson. Not only was it necessary that she find some way to earn money after she had passed forty—and had never worked before in her life—but she was under the additional strain of an operation which had virtually crippled her. The operation was successful, but Mrs. Wilson was forced to keep her head thrown back in a very uncomfortable posture and clerical or active work of any kind was entirely out of the question.

When she began to look around for some way in which she could add to her income, the only thing that Mrs. Wilson could think of that could possibly be carried out was her love of birds. During her entire life she had been a bird lover, and she had been watching birds, studying their habits, discovering how and why and where they built their nests, learning their haunts, their calls and their dances.

"Possibly," she thought to herself, "there may be some way of transforming this information into dollars and cents."

Her first efforts were futile, principally because her aim was not sufficiently high. The schools and other organizations to which she applied were not interested in birdlore, but when she brought the matter to the attention of the Indiana Department of Agriculture she obtained an immediate response, together with the offer of a position which carried a good salary. Now Mrs. Wilson is in Detroit and the field of her activities has broadened until she is connected with the United States Department of Agriculture.

And a willowy figure got away with and crime from murder to arson.

But if the woman is innocent, she will want a woman jury who will know that she is telling the truth, even when she admits to some act that is improbable, because they know that under the same circumstances they would have done the same thing; more, she will want to be tried by other women who know that the law is an ass, and that has got a lot of crimes and misdemeanors in the wrong catalogue, anyway.

No case in which the welfare of a child is involved should be tried without women on the jury, for the instinct of the mother heart gives to women a wisdom like unto that of Solomon in dealing with such problems.

It goes without saying that all cases involving romantic and sex relationship between men and women should be tried by a mixed jury in that way only can we get at the proper amount that should be fixed as the harm for a wounded heart in a breach of promise case, for the six lady jurors could tell at a glance whether the fair plaintiff was the chaser or the chased, and they could also diagnose with an accuracy possible to no mere man the actual damage inflicted, on her more or less tender affections.

And they would know, too, how to deal with the wolves in sheep's clothing who prey upon little lily lambs, and what alimony to hand out to forsaken and neglected wives whose only crime has been in getting old and ugly, and how to pity the poor deserted, tormented creature who in a mad moment have avenged years of wrong with a red crime.

Oh, the findings of a woman jury will be interesting. And just.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Says Crail Is Right.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—(To the Editor of The Times.) It was with great interest that I read an article in a recent number of The Times by Judge Charles R. Crail.

I am not a mere theorist working upon the experiences of others, for I recently have undergone marital difficulties myself.

I often wonder if I am not one of the many to suffer from existing conditions, in order that I may know and thus be better able to help others.

In my soliciting work I daily meet broken homes, many on the verge of collapse, and vastly more where a state of armed neutrality or of serious provocation, therefore, I am prepared to agree with Judge Crail that this divorce question is one of the greatest problems before the world today; because the sex question has always been one of the greatest of all times.

During the past it has been ignored, feared, denied, smothered with superstition, and at all times tried to be glorified by religion. We have this wave of divorce today because of these treatments of what should have been calmly recognized as vital knowledge in the past.

A fear of an old-fashioned hell for the soul, and exhausting hard work for the body were past adjusters for the majority of lives though, even then, ignorance was reigning in its reign, and as such was though published in the divorce courts.

I feel sure that the hope of cure does not rest with cruder laws, but in a genuine sex knowledge and a stricter sense of integrity for all classes of society.

We can't have a garden by fencing a plot; the ground must be prepared, the right seed sown, and the plants husbanded. The fence is not to keep the garden in, but the marauders out, and even then it is no protection against foul seeds brought by winds and birds from wild wastes and deserted plots.

I venture the assertion that not one person in a thousand knows his or her own body; understands the origin, control and dangers of the sex urge. People repeatedly become parents without having been astonished into reverence by even a sagacious understanding of the mystery to which we owe our being.

Worse still—they have no regard for the rights to protection demanded by the unborn soul—as a result the world receives its quota of "children of passion," each generation a little more lacking in honor, purity and unselfishness. Men know more about their automobiles than they do their own bodies from which all mechanical devices are clumsily copied. Women spend vast nerve force devising beautiful coverings for the body, and only a passing thought to the covering of the soul.

But why go on. In the past two years I have studied deeply, and I know the cure. The next thing is to put it over. Judge Crail's words of warning and his wise judicial influence are creating thought, but it is teaching we need through all the mediums at command.

MARY L. HULIN.

Writes the Board.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—(To the Editor of The Times.) The following letter is a copy recently forwarded to the City Board of Public Works, and may be of general interest:

"May I call your kind attention to several phases of the Pacoima Canyon flood control problem meriting consideration?"

"While I represent those who value this canyon as a scenic asset to this section and who, because of the wide appreciation of what Nature has thus handed down as a natural playground, have been endeavoring to have homes thereon, none of us have any disposition to oppose protection of Van Nuys and Pacoima from floods—even to the surrender of our homes, should the latter be shown necessary."

"This, however, has not been shown. The inspiration of a $2,500,000 dam at the narrow of the canyon is more in the nature of a monument to an engineer than a necessity or justified expense—indeed the County Engineer is on record as having enthusiastically endorsed another expedient which would make the destruction of this canyon and the property therein unnecessary. In his 1916 report to the Supervisors on flood control, page 23, he states: 'The writer approves the plans now offered for the protection of this section (San Fernando) from floods by the diversion of the Pacoima wash from its debouchure eastward along the upper edge of the valley to the west channel of the Tujunga, removes flood menace from the towns of San Fernando and Van Nuys, and the beautiful country surrounding them. The outline for the proposed works for this section is sound and practical engineering and it is a pleasure to approve it.'"

"Doubtless this plan of the flood control engineers could be consummated with the $255,000. Pacoima flood control funds on hand and thus not necessitate another monumental bond undertaking at a most unpopular time."

"If there must be a dam then why not give real investigation of the opportunity presented by the deep, wide wash below the mouth of the canyon? It has the advantage over the site at the narrow of accessibility and material for construction at hand. Much of the silt and debris which would be intercepted and tend to rapidly fill a reservoir at the 'narrow' would be deposited before reaching the site at the wash. Most important of all perhaps, the wash site is of an altitude, which the narrow site is not, which would admit of adequate water storage—the crying need at present. Should a reservoir at the wash site not prove water tight, temporary storage of water there so close to the valley would best tend by seepage to raise the water level of the valley. In any case it would effectually serve as flood control—which is all you have before you at this time.

"Why then destroy something which cannot be replaced and the homes therein? Which undertaking, if started would mean years of flood control delay, whereas other effectual expedients would bring early relief?"

F. A. PATTEE.

BLIND DENTISTRY IN RAMPUR.

The nabob of Rampur—Rampur is about 80 miles northwest of Calcutta—came down from his home to consult Dr. D. S. Smith of London, and brought 150 people with him to see about his mother's teeth. It appears that she wanted a set of false ones, and, because English women had two sets, nothing serve but that she also should have two.

The nabob is a Mohomedan, so his mother could not see the face. Likewise, Dr. Smith went to Rampur to do the work. The old lady lay back with face covered, and the dentist edged through a hole in a sheet of false ones, and, because English

Real Estate Values in San Diego, California 1867-1920

Solid Black represents Actual Value
Black and White Line represents Average Sale Price

The REAL FACTS about REAL ESTATE VALUES

are hard to get. But, here they are. You ought to know them. Population, business growth, public improvements, public utilities and future prospects all are important to you in choosing your home.

Do not be misled by sales prices, present or past. They are often wrong prices.

This chart shows both prices and values of real estate at San Diego, Southern California's second largest city, and one of the fastest growing in the country.

No effort has been spared to make it reliable. The black portion shows the real values of San Diego property since it first sold, in 1867, for 27 cents an acre.

The black and white line shows the Prices asked and received for this real estate. Sometimes they have been above value, sometimes below. They are now below, and rising rapidly.

Prices and values alike are going up at San Diego because the demand for homes is great, along the many miles of pleasant streets surrounding Balboa Park or overlooking bay and ocean. The population has doubled in ten years.

Through Pullman service is operated between San Diego and Chicago over the San Diego and Arizona Railway, in connection with the Rock Island and Southern Pacific "Golden State Limited." A delightful, mild climate trip through Imperial Valley and magnificent scenery.

The commercial importance of this splendid seaport, tremendously augmented by the new transcontinental route to the East over the San Diego and Arizona Railway, the Southern Pacific and the Rock Island, is another reason for the advancing values, while thousands of men in training are being added to the city's population and payroll through the completion of twenty million dollars' worth of Government shore stations.

See San Diego. It's a wonderful afternoon ride through orange groves and along the seashore, either by rail or over good roads, and there's frequent steamer service.

Women of Middle Age

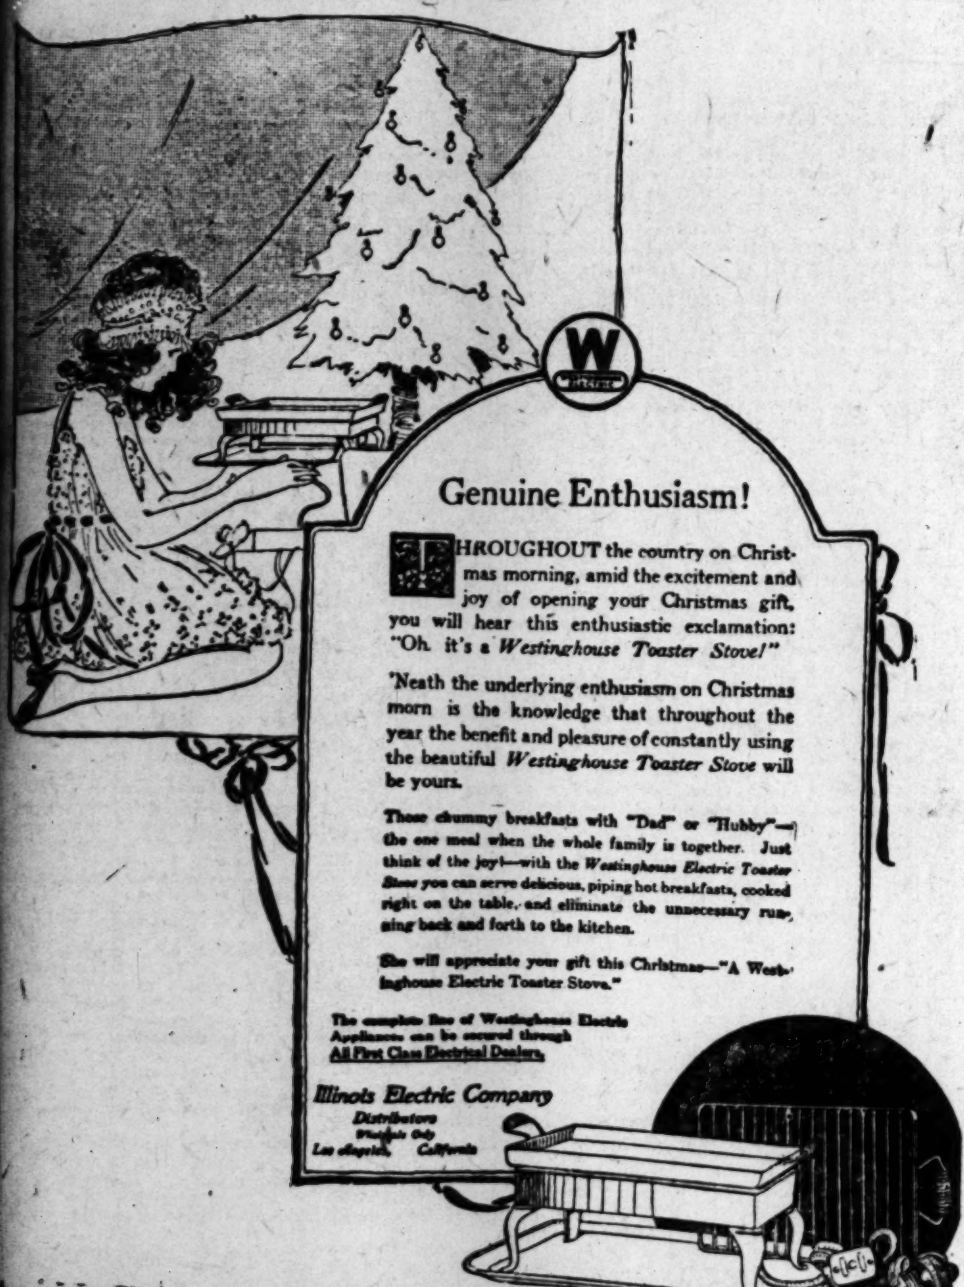

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.
Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. Susan C. -there's a difference in meats

FRANKLY, yes—you can buy meats in many places for less money per pound than they cost you at Young's. Nowhere, however, can you buy meats of the same quality and food value any cheaper than you can at the nineteen Young Markets.

Young's meats are the finest that can be bought! We say it without fear of contradiction. Will Young, one of the five Young Brothers, personally selects these meats, first choice of Los Angeles packing houses, and puts the Young Stamp—the stamp of Quality—on them himself.

When you buy beef at Young's, you get steer beef. Young's Circle Y Brand Steer Beef is the supreme quality in Southern California. Young's do not carry cow beef, because Steer beef has one-third greater food value per pound than cow beef. Steer beef is raised and fattened especially for food. Cow beef is not put upon the food market until after the cow has served breeding purposes. Judged by actual food value, therefore, steer beef costs less per pound than does cow beef. Cow beef, to be as economical as steer beef, should be bought for one-third less than steer beef. Then, too, aside from consideration of actual food value per pound, steer beef is infinitely more tasty, juicy and nutritious than cow beef. All the meats which Young's sell are just as carefully and scientifically selected as is the beef you buy here. And all the meats bought at Young's come to you with an absolute assurance of quality and an equal assurance of fair prices.

VOTE NO ON THE ALIEN LAND LAW (INITIATIVE ACT 1)

This nation was founded by thinkers who dealt out justice to all people. The Alien Land Law has nothing to do with the exclusion question; do not be deceived. It is an error to think that the florists' trade would be benefited by the passage of this cruel and unjust law. The trade will be hampered by its adoption and American patrons will suffer. THE MERRY-GO-ROUND.
 If they could have a referendum on these one-man street cars there wouldn't be friends enough to give them a decent burial.

JUST HEARSAY.
 It is again permissible for women to show their ears. They have been showing their teeth—and everything—for some time and now their ears are to be disclosed to the bewildered male.

THE BLANKET.
 The women have one advantage. They can take their sample ballot and use it to make a pattern for a drop skirt. But for the love of Lisa let it not be a drop too much.

WHAT FIER?
 Advice from the Northwest are that the price of Douglas fir has declined 50 per cent since May. It is a pity the ladies cannot wear Douglas fir. Although it might spruce them up a bit, it could never become popular.

STONE COFFINS.
 One of the big concrete ships was sunk in a collision in Narragansett Bay and numbers of the crew were lost. When the bottom drops out of a stone boat there isn't much chance for human life. It doesn't take long for a concrete vessel to sink.

THE DEAD ONES.
 Our idea of post mortems is this Congressional committee which is playing a conspicuous performance in unearthing the inspiration and use of party campaign funds. Why not investigate the charges of extravagance and incompetency in building the tower of Babel?

SMALL CUTS.
 One of the small New York hotels has made a cut of 10 per cent on the items of the bill of fare. This will enable a guest to get a lunch for a ten-dollar bill and still have enough left to appease the waiter. But a 10 per cent cut on a $4 steak hardly makes a dent in the gravy.

IT'S LAST LEG.
 It is asserted that Bolshevism in Russia cannot last through another winter. Its only hope is in world-wide revolution that will feed it from without. It can no longer live on itself. It has almost sucked dry its own blood. Unless it continuously has something from to feed upon Bolshevism must inevitably die.

THE OPTIMISTS.
 Both Messrs. Harding and Cox feel absolutely certain of their election to the Presidency. Eugene Debs is reasonably sure, but admits that he has not been in a position to look all about him. Parley Christensen is positive the drift is in his direction. It is fine to be an optimist. Only the prohibition nominee falters at the prospect.

NAUGHTY NIGHTIE.
 One of our divorce judges declines to believe that a man would wear a pink nightie. The discovery of one of these affluents garments in a man's chamber was declared to be evidence of the presence of a woman, although the man insisted that it was part of his nightie. The judge looked at a couple of squares of billowy lace around the bottom and then emitted a snort of doubt. The court may take judicial knowledge of a silk shirt, but when it has lady frills it becomes a negligee.

A STRONG VOICE.
 A Herbert Hoover is back at the old home to vote for Harding and Shortridge. He insists that even more important than the Presidency is a thoroughly Republican Congress—one in which the Phelans and the Randalls have no place. California men have tariff protection for her industries. That is the great demand so far as the Pacific Coast is concerned, and as Herbert Hoover sees it. He promises a world League under President Harding which will be shaped by Root, Hughes, Taft and other constructive leaders in whom the nation holds confidence.

CAME OF CONVERSATION.
 Now they tell us that when women of the smart set suffer from ennui, mesalliance or tight lacing they are treated by psychoanalysis. This isn't exactly sending the soul to the dry cleaners to be dusted and renovated. Rather there is an infusion of mentality—a crossing of thought currents. In the course of the treatment the patient is seated on an overstuffed divan with her hand in that of a fashionable and handsome practitioner. Thus sitting she is urged to babble on—to tell everything that goes through her mind as fast as it comes. Ever and anon the doctor will chip in a few words to direct or change the trend of thought or to divert the noodle of the patient. Sometimes this "thought" transference is on lines of love and admiration and the patient indicates an affection for the practitioner. It is to this stage of the treatment that the wife of the doctor objects. If every patient is going to sing her love to him she may lose him. Therefore the wives of the doctors are not very strong for this psychoanalytic business. Nevertheless it is likely to be popular with some of the women of the middle class. It is a sort of a spaced or Lullaby mental healing. Possibly it is a distraction set to medicine. Anyhow, it sounds pleasant and that is sufficient.

TODAY'S ISSUES.
 Once in four years the voters of the forty-eight sovereign States that form the American republic assemble and exercise the right of self-determination which is the greatest heritage of a free people. Today they are the arbiters of the destiny of the republic.

Ours is a representative government and the representatives chosen today will decide whether the United States shall form a part of an association of nations to promote and protect the peace of the world; whether protection shall be afforded through adequate tariffs for American labor and American industry; whether the present inefficiency and extravagance of the Federal government shall be replaced by economy and retrenchment; whether we shall return to the good government of the Republican administrations which mark the epochs of America's greatest prosperity; whether we shall turn our backs on free trade and the varying degrees of radicalism and governmental meddling in private business, to pledge anew our allegiance to American institutions and American traditions.

These questions have all been discussed in party platforms, speeches of acceptance and campaign addresses. The issues are fairly well defined and generally understood.

Many promises have been made by many men. It is for the electors of the nation to decide what men are the more likely to perform what they have promised.

The election of Harding and Coolidge seems assured, provided Republican voters will not assume that there is no danger and that they are to go to the polls. There is the peril. Overconfidence has lost many a campaign. It has caused enough people to fail to vote to permit a minority that goes to the polls to dominate a majority that stays at home.

Many questions will be decided by today's ballot. We shall write a new record for California in the Federal Congress. Our present state is a mixed one, containing almost as many Democratic names as Republican. It has been so for the last eight years, with the result that the protective tariffs which once sustained and protected California industries have one after another been removed. A veritable free-trade tariff has forced California bean growers, lemon growers, cotton planters, date growers and wool growers into competition with the cheapest foreign labor in the world. A Republican tariff is necessary to preserve these industries, and it can only be secured by electing Republicans to Congress.

If the Republicans of the State were to fail to elect Samuel M. Shortridge to the Senate there is about an even chance that the blunder would turn the Senate over to the Democrats. The supporters of Senator Phelan have made a dollar campaign; they have sent paid workers into every precinct in the voting centers and they have hundreds of automobiles hired to carry their voters to the polls. Senator Phelan says the money for this half-million-dollar campaign—although he puts the cost much less—has been contributed by "anonymous friends without my knowledge." Fortunately indeed is the millionaire politician with so many anonymous friends who are such reckless spenders.

Mr. Shortridge was not able to match dollar with dollar or paid worker with paid worker, even if he were so inclined. For he is a man of moderate fortune and he has not a multitude of anonymous supporters in the millionaire class. He rests upon his pledge, indeed Monday morning by Herbert Hoover, to vote in harmony with Senator Harding and the Republican majority on issues involving foreign relations and internal economy.

The success or defeat of Mr. Shortridge will depend upon the number of registered Republican voters who go to the polls today to exercise the right of self-determination, which, we repeat, is the keystone of our liberties. Few of them will find automobiles calling at their doors; but we think they will all agree that a country worthy of the name of free should have its electors and its sidewalks leading to all the polling places. The man who is too busy or too much inclined to leisure to go to block to a voting booth is generally the one who is most likely to be misled by misrepresentation.

We again stress Senator Harding's closing message to the American people: that he does not want to be elected President if the people are not going to elect a Republican Congress to translate platform promises into legislative enactments. Congressmen for good intentions protect no one. The great demand so far as the Pacific Coast is concerned, and as Herbert Hoover sees it. He promises a world League under President Harding which will be shaped by Root, Hughes, Taft and other constructive leaders in whom the nation holds confidence.

THE AD VALOREM UNIVERSITY TAX.
 The Times has received a communication from a member of the campaign committee working for proposition No. 12 on today's ballot, the State university initiative, attempting to justify the attempt to relieve the State of all expense connected with the State university and saddle the whole bill upon the cities and counties in the form of an ad valorem tax.

The Times has asserted repeatedly that the State university should receive more funds; but it has always insisted that it is the duty of the Legislature to provide those funds out of the general tax money raised for State purposes. Under California's peculiar tax system certain properties are set aside for taxation for State purposes only. These include the public utility companies, banks, insurance companies, etc. Under the terms of proposition No. 12 the State would pay nothing for the support of the university and an ad valorem tax of one and one-tenth mills on the dollar would be assessed on all city and county property. The State would be $2,500,000 ahead—for that sum is now paid annually from the State tax fund to support the university—and the owners of city and county property would be taxed an additional $4,000,000.

Trying to defend this discrimination in favor of the forty fat commissions and against the property owners Mr. M. E. Deutch, the correspondent referred to, advanced the following unique argument:

To be sure an ad valorem tax may not be levied direct on operative properties of the public utility, but Mr. C. Plehn, the tax expert who had so much to do with the establishment of the present system of taxation, has pointed out very clearly these facts:

(1) The tax imposed upon corporations must be so adjusted that it is equivalent and proportionately equal to the tax paid upon real estate and personal property.

(2) A revision of the percentage to be paid by public service corporations will be made at the next session of the Legislature.

(3) Accordingly, if amendment No. 12 is adopted, the Legislature will be under obligation to fix the tax on corporations so as to equal the tax paid by the individual taxpayer, including the ad valorem tax for the support of the university.

Do you grasp that, Mr. Taxpayer? Amendment No. 12 would put an additional burden of $4,000,000 on the individual taxpayer; and to equalize that, the Legislature would put an additional burden of $4,000,000 on the present payers of State tax. But what would that extra $4,000,000 be levied for? The per capita cost of State government in California is now the highest in the United States. According to the proponents of this university amendment themselves it would lead to the levy of an additional tax of $5,000,000 annually. The State machine would get the $2,500,000 which the State now pays to the university and the $4,000,000 additional State tax levied "to even up" the city and county taxation. Pretty soft for the forty fat commissions, but staggering for those who must support the State and local governments!

The Times repeats that the university needs more money; but the way to get it is through the Legislature and out of the State tax fund. The Lord knows that the city and county tax bills are now high enough without assuming an additional burden that the State ought to carry. There is sufficient money now collected to give the university an extra $1,000,000. A plan will be submitted to the next Legislature for cutting the annual cost of the commissions $1,000,000. Let that be done and let the money go to the State university. The public service

On September 12 the Milan convention, representing organized labor in Italy, announced that the ballots of the federation as officially counted showed that 64,419 unionists favored the immediate introduction of socialism, while 421,599 opposed it.

The next day the metal workers of the Po region took over and began to operate on their own account the steel plants of Northern Italy. They gave as their excuse the "intention" of the owners of the property to shut them down. The steel plants of that region, it just so happened, had been making less than 2 per cent for the first six months of this year and since July are believed to have been operating at a heavy loss.

When the workers took over the plants they selected their own managers, appointed their own board of directors, and began to use up the reserve resources of the victimized concerns. Whether they have turned the plants, as reported, over to the making of munitions or whether they are still doing commercial work is not clear, but the work is going ahead and the owners of the properties have been told by the government that it is neutral, since there "has been no violence."

The reason that there has been no violence, of course, is that the owners of the property are too weak to offer resistance and the government is too timid. The government was told if any attempt should be made to send troops to the region a nationwide strike would follow.

Yesterday the Italian newspapers printed the details of a plot by radicals to formally take over the government. This course, however, is opposed by the ablest among the unionists, who are largely guided in the matter by the report of a commission sent by the unionists to study conditions in Russia. This commission recommended that "for the present" the unionists should content themselves with taking over industries "peacefully if possible, violently if necessary."

The moderate course was not recommended on patriotic grounds, but simply because it was felt by the experts on revolution that socialism would have a better chance if brought on rather gradually in Italy. Likewise, it was pointed out that the geographical position of Italy is such as to render it an easy matter for other nations to attack the revolutionists if such a course should be thought necessary.

The result is one of the most peculiar situations known in modern times. The government of one of the foremost nations is refusing to raise its hand to prevent the confiscation of private property and, apparently, the only thing that prevents an open revolution is the belief among the unionists that it would be poor strategy internationally.

Whether jealousies within the unions or the inability of the workers to successfully operate properties already nearly bankrupt or a sudden flare-up of patriotism will save the government and Italy is yet to be seen.

MASCULINE TASTES.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Dr. Leonard Hill of London, a gentleman of good repute, has sounded an awful alarm in the London newspapers. Because, he says, the war has depressed the number of masculine tastes, there are a million "superfuous women" in England and "bizarre colors, low-cut dresses, transparent stockings and short skirts indicate the intensified struggle of women for making themselves attractive to men."

The worthy gentleman deplors this attitude on the part of the female of the species and has some "superfuous" things to say about the girls who paint their faces and use the artifice of hairdressing. He sees in it a willful degradation of their own nature.

But what the gentleman fails to appreciate, which is really the deplorable condition, is that this "superfuous" attitude is a logical method of enhancing feminine attractiveness to men. Women are, of course, made, by a wise provision of Providence, for the perpetuation of the species, but they are not quite such utterly damned fools as to adopt "superfuous" tastes. If the simple, wholesome maiden utterly devoid of artifice, modest, gentle and innocent, were really the more completely attractive, if expected that the painted busy was neglected and despised, their providential instinct would soon abolish these methods and every "superfuous woman" would seek of sweet simplicity and chastity; and all the dangerous vampires and sirens of the screen and stage would be depicted as the very quintessence of apparent innocence. Wherefore it would be infinitely more honest, more logical and consistent to frankly admit that masculine taste is pretty rotten for the most part and, as every age gets the women it deserves, it is obvious that the Lord of the universe in their hearts that an all-wise Providence has arranged nothing of the kind, that man is the lord of creation, that he has been provided with six ounces more of brain than the woman, and that while this sort of assertion tickles the vanity of women voters, both men and women in their hearts that an all-wise Providence has arranged nothing of the kind, that man is the lord of creation, that he has been provided with six ounces more of brain than the woman, and that while this sort of assertion tickles the vanity of women voters, both men and women in their hearts that an all-wise Providence has arranged nothing of the kind, that man is the lord of creation, that he has been provided with six ounces more of brain than the woman, and that while this HINTS ON GOLF FOR WOMEN.

BY MRS. GOURLAY DUNN-WEBB.

[This is the first of a series of articles on golf for women by Mrs. Gourlay Dunn-Webb, one of the few women golf professionals in the country. Mrs. Dunn-Webb is well qualified as a golf tutor, having developed several women champions, and is now in charge of the B. H. Dyna scenic golf net. In her first article Mrs. Dunn-Webb deals with the subject, "The Difference in Teaching Women and Men How to Play Golf."]

One cannot deny the fact that it is much easier to teach a man golf than a woman. A man's muscles are much more pliable and they are in every way more adaptable in any athletic enterprise. A man has much stronger hands and wrists. A woman has scarcely any strength in her hands.

In my method of teaching women I find it necessary to give special attention to strengthening the hands. This can be easily accomplished by special exercises, which I will describe later. When a woman plays a good game of golf she has much more to her credit than a man, as she has many more difficulties to overcome. There are some splendid golfers in this country, quite equal to any we have on the other side. The game in this country is not old enough to have made this condition possible.

THE ONLY SWING.
I maintain that the subconscious swing is the one and only swing, and that those that start learning while young develop this subconscious swing. Children, as we all know, are great imitators; they can quickly visualize and copy a movement. You only have to watch the young boys who caddy and you will notice that their swings are perfect. They will even imitate the member's various mannerisms to a nicety. I remember a dinner that was given at the Mt. Washington Hotel, Bretton Woods, for the ladies. There was a concert and some of the boys performed. The biggest hit of the evening was one little fellow who came on and gave an imitation of some of the golfers he had been caddying for. There was no need to mention names; they were all so true to life that we knew at once who they were. He certainly opened the eyes of his models.

There are more mannerisms in golf than in any other game. The trouble in teaching grown-ups is that they are too self-conscious. The greatest art in teaching is to impart knowledge, without producing too much self-consciousness in the pupil.

SELF-CONSCIOUS.
Women are more self-conscious and, may I say, awkward—I refer only to athletics—than men. A man will swing his arms away out without fear. A woman has a timid swing and wants to hug her swing, as if it were cruel to hit the ball too hard.

The most interesting instruction I ever gave was at Wesley College, Boston, Mass. I was asked if I could coach sixty girls in an afternoon—an unheard of thing, but I said I could. I thought it all over and it was arranged that the girls come to me in classes of twenty. I planned a system of golf exercises—without a club at first—which prepared the girls for that wonderful poise and balance, which is the very root of the golf swing.

They say "necessity is the mother of invention." It was necessary for me to produce the golf swing whole-sale, so I had to invent these exercises, which, I am glad to say, proved a success and proved to me that the golf swing can be built up by degrees. Just as you learn the five-finger exercise on the piano to prepare you for the more difficult combination of notes to follow, so can golf exercises prepare you for the full swing, and with much more lasting results and better understanding. If you are made conscious of your hands, feet, head, shoulders, knees—all at once—your mental and muscular co-ordination is spoiled. A preparatory course of training the muscles will produce a natural sense of movement. Surely, there is logic back of the statement.

The golf swing can be made very simple, and, again, it can be made a very complicated affair. Very young children can be taught most easily by imitating a good copy. After 18 years a different method must be used. There are various little knacks in golf which must be singled out, and mastered one at a time. It is much easier this way and quicker.

HELD STANFORD A BIT CHEAPLY.

and Templeton in the line-up, is a rejuvenated Stanford, according to Herd. Templeton not only kicked well, but he did something else that wasn't in his category last year, and that was to run back punts in splendid fashion.

His prize kick of the day came in the third quarter, after Stanford had held Oregon on the 2-yard line. He stood two yards back of the end line and kicked a long high spiral that went clear to the middle of the field. It was a cool 62 yards, and all clear gain because the boot was from a quick line-up formation and the Oregon safety was not back in his usual position.

Herd returned to the U.S.C. campus yesterday morning from Stanford with his victorious yearling eleven.

His men, he reports, went like a house on fire against the Cardabes. In fact, they went too fast for the officials who worked in the game.

U.S.C. received the kick-off and scored on two plays from a spread-eagle formation. The officials couldn't fathom the works, so they refused to allow the score and brought the ball back. It was only postponing the inevitable.

The Trojan frosh pulled off a triple pass, which worked like a charm, John Hawkins scoring.

GOOD FOR DICK.
In the second quarter, Dick Emmons scored on a long forward pass and Milton scooped up a Stanford fumble and raced twenty yards to the goal line. The first half ended with the score 21 to 0 in favor of U.S.C. Milton having kicked all the goals from touchdowns.

Dolley scampered twenty yards to a touchdown in the third quarter on a lateral pass. The first season White appeared a forward pass just as a Stanford man was about to gather it in and galloped forty yards to a score.

The last two periods were shortened to ten minutes apiece. With the Stanford victory under their belts, the Trojan frosh will buckle down to real work this morning for their battle with the California peasegreen team on Board Field next Saturday.

This will be for the intercollegiate freshman championship of the State. The Bear first-year men have whopped every team they have met in the north and U.S.C. has done likewise here in the south.

California always has a classy freshman team, and this year is no exception to the rule. O'Brien and Sturford, who played with Manual last year, are on the flanks. Nicholas of Pomona High is a halfback. Dunn and Witter, Berkeley High stars, who played in the State championship contest against Long Beach, are also backfield men. Here is the record of the two teams to date:

Coach Gloomy Gus Henderson gave his U.S.C. varsity men carte blanche to break training rules as a rule of their victory over Pomona. There will be no practice for them until tomorrow.

Gloomy says the battle with the Sageshens was one of the fiercest he ever watched. He lost another lock of hair from his thinning head every time Voorhies or Covington or Wilson got away for one of their scintillating runs. They will play contest and these birds would run Gloomy bald.

HOCKEY TEAM TO SAIL.
Field hockey has been played by young lady members of Philadelphia clubs for fifteen years. The present trip of a team to England is the first international venture of the clever girl athletes. They will play in Scotland and England in the next few weeks.

What Dual Valves Add to Pierce-Arrow Trucks

DUAL Valves add to Pierce-Arrow trucks increased power equal to any demand they may be called upon to meet. Hills, mires and rough-going will not worry them.

Power Avoids Road Delays

Power equal to any need saves delay. Trucks complete trips in less time; makes more trips, more money. The yield from a truck investment is fixed by the work it does.

Reduces Operating Costs

This increased power is developed at a lowered cost. Dual Valves mean fuller, purer gas charges. Two sparks assure complete combustion and convert the charge into more miles.

Decreases Repair Costs

Time lost in the shop is a big truck expense. Easy accessibility of parts assures repairs, when necessary, with the least loss of time, with the lowest labor charges.

THREE TRUCK SIZES:

2-ton, 3½-ton and 5-ton—and a tractor—all electric lighted, worm driven, and equipped with Dual Valve engines.

An Essex Advantage That All Acclaim

The distinction of performance which rates the moderate-priced Essex among the fine cars of the world is by no means confined to its greater speed, acceleration and hill-climbing ability.

Official proofs remove its supremacy in those qualities from debate. No car of its motor size ever matched them. Some of its marks were never equaled by any car, regardless of size, price or type.

Thus Essex Takes Rank With the Greatest Cars

Yet if one quality, more than another, causes men to link Essex in merit with the costly cars, it is its ease of motion, and elastic smoothness in action, which have no counterpart among light cars.

That is the enchantment.

Essex owners admit they value next to its reliability. Even long association they say does not dispel the impression of riding in a large car.

We know in all candidness that few men ever have call for such speed and power as Essex possesses. Yet no owner mistakes it for useless surplus. This excess ability is valued chiefly because it does the ordinary task without effort. And because men like to have capacity that can meet exceptional calls for power, speed and acceleration, with an ease and absence of strain that brings no concern as to its accomplishment.

The satisfaction and enthusiasm of nearly 50,000 owners content us to leave the judgment of the Essex in their hands.

TEMPEST OF LAUGHS GREETED

"UP IN MABEL'S ROOM."

By Grace Kingsley.

"Most of the trouble in this world," Amelle Rivers said, once "arises from beds. And so, I might add, no most of the farces now-a-days.

Of the whole crop of bedroom farces, none is funnier than "Up in Mabel's Room," which opened to fair business at the Mason last night.

We had the same farce last year.

This year there are only a few minor changes in the cast. It is about the same excellent company.

She's got to think her husband really had before she can have any joy in keeping him sweet," declares

the wise little widow, Mabel Essing-

ton. "That's the theme of the play,

which moves at a man-o'-war clip

through its three acts of sly comedy and joy-giving situations. The audience last night testified to its enjoyment with enough

noise for three audiences.

The story centers around a pink chessie marker, which both the names, sent by Garry's friend, in a moment of weakness while he was in to there, where the party of

at the time engaged. Afterward she becomes affianced to somebody else

other girl.

They meet at a house party, and he wants to recover the bit of linen, by which she thinks his spot-little wife needs a lesson and won't give it to him.

Incidentally the chessie incident

being vaguely related to a woman friend of Garry's by Garry himself, becomes mistaken for a more serious complication. In short she thinks he has an illegitimate child.

"How big is it?" asks the woman friend. "Oh, it's pink, and only about so long. It—"

"Oh, you needn't describe it," says

the friend. "I know how they look!

Most of the action takes place in

WRECK INQUIRY DUE TOMORROW.
Commission Will Investigate Salt Lake Smash-up.
Case of Yermo Accident is Still Veiled in Doubt.
One of Injured is Reported in Critical Condition.
The State Railroad Commission, tomorrow at 9 a.m., will begin its investigation into the wreck which occurred near there last Saturday on the Salt Lake road. This was stated in a telegram from the commission, received yesterday by General Manager Comstock. Meanwhile, the railroad officials have not determined the cause of the disaster, which cost three lives, caused injuries to more than a score of persons, and resulted in $20,000 damage to railroad equipment.
Mr. Comstock said yesterday that the Interstate Commerce Commission also has been notified of the wreck, but no word has been received from that body. Since the Interstate commission has no investigating officials in California, it is probable that the State commission may represent the Federal authorities.
Pending the official inquiry into the accident, no statement will be made by the railroad regarding the probable cause, Mr. Comstock said, other than to reiterate the denial of spreading rails were responsible. No evidence that spread rails caused the Pacific Overland train No. 103 to plunge from the trestle was found, he declared. The inquiry by the Railroad Commission will be handled from the San Francisco office, it was said at the local headquarters.
CONDITION CRITICAL.
R. T. Atkinson of Salt Lake City, body man and news agent on the train, was reported last night in a critical condition at the Good Samaritan Hospital, where thirteen of the more seriously injured were taken. W. J. Davis of Moberly, Mo., who was pinned beneath the wreckage for ten hours before his rescue was effected, is much improved, however. It was stated at the hospital, and excellent hopes for his recovery are now held. None of the other injured is critically hurt, it is believed.
Stephen & Son, San Bernardino undertakers, yesterday took charge of the bodies of the three victims, which were left at Yermo by the railroad workers. Arrangements for bringing the bodies of James F. Downey, 4110 Delton avenue, and Paul Hesse, also of Los Angeles, to this city today have been made. Plans for the burial of Rev. Francis J. Brady of Chicago have not been completed.
"TIMES" RECORD RUN.
Division Superintendent Cullea, yesterday resumed at Yermo, overseeing the repair work on the road, and making further investigation of the accident. Cullea went to the scene of the accident early Sunday morning with other officials of the road, who were the first persons from Los Angeles to get there, except a party of Times representatives. The latter reached the scene four hours ahead of any other newspaper men, making a round trip from here in an Express Mail, applied by the Harold L. Arnold agency and driven by O. K. Parker and Frank Geary. The run of 17 miles, half of which was on the desert roads, east of Summit, was made in the remarkably good time of less than six hours, although thirty miles of wet roads were encountered. The manner in which the car stood up under such a test was a tribute both to the engine and driving.
BIG VOTE IS LIKELY TODAY.
give a plurality of $6,000 to Harding and Coolidge and for Mr. Shortridge. A three-to-one vote for all the Republican candidates is assured in the counties of Imperial, San Diego, Orange, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Kern and San Bernardino. The agricultural counties will roll up the greatest surprise vote, in my opinion, that the Republicans have ever seen in this State. The increase in the last three weeks will give him practically a vote for voice with Harding and Coolidge in Southern California.
Chairman Barlett predicted the election of Charles F. Van De Water, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, over his Democratic-Prohibition opponent and Congressman Osborne in the Tenth District over his Socialist opponent.
"Mr. Van De Water's election is assured, in view of the strongly favorable reports throughout the Ninth District," he said. "He has made an able campaign, has met every issue in a way to satisfy his district that his services are needed at Washington, and I am convinced that he will be elected by a convincing vote. His stand on a tariff, for strict enforcement of the Volstead act, for suitable soldier legislation and for the development of Los Angeles harbor, and the clean, open way in which he has conducted his campaign, have won him united support."
"Congressman Osborne will be re-elected beyond any question, this time by a larger vote than before. His services, so long and so ably given the city and the State, will be needed for a long time yet at Washington."
STATE TICKET.
"I am also convinced that State Senator Joseph Romberg will be returned to Sacramento by a large majority. He is one of our most valuable Senators, and his presence in the State again at Sacramento will give the Southern California delegation the strength it will need at the coming session."
"The re-election of State Senator Wright Hart is also assured. He is one of the most efficient members of our delegation and his district needs him at Sacramento."
"Of the success of the other Republican candidates for the Senate and Assembly I am equally sanguine. The more efficient members of the Legislature are the ones who are having nominated able men at the primary, and their election will be in the public interest."
Chairman Brown expressed belief that California will go Democratic at the Southern California, especially in case for the Southern States.

Extraordinary - 2000 New Hats - at 750 -

Wednesday—at Bullock's
—The Annual November Millinery Event, which has been such an auspicious one in the past, promises a more brilliant performance tomorrow.
—This announcement has been given the responsibility of spreading the wonderful news of these Hats at $7.50—but read between the lines. Emphasize not alone that there are 2000 Hats to be offered at a very low price of $7.50—but that they constitute Bullock's Annual November Sale of Hats at $7.50.
—The writer has vivid memories of a Bullock Hat Event at $7.50 in which well over 1000 Hats were distributed in a single day. Perhaps you remember it, too.
—It was with an even greater goal in mind that this November event was planned. The Hats themselves have undergone keen scrutiny as to Style, Beauty and Quality by those who know well the standard of Bullock's Annual November $7.50 Hat Values.
—Specifications have in all cases been filled, and in many cases, more than filled. Favorable market conditions have been used to advantage. But only 2000 Hats have been permitted because more could not be found to measure up to the Bullock Standard of this Annual Event at $7.50. Only 2000, therefore, with recollections of past performance, it is not the course of wisdom to be late at Bullock's tomorrow, Wednesday, if you would share in this distribution extraordinary.
—Dance Hats, Turbans, Large Brim Hats—Hats of Gold and Silver Laces, Cloths and Brocades; Hats of Fur; Hats of Velvet and Panné Velvet, with a generous sprinkling of Feather Hats. Hats, smart and perky for the Miss; Hats, more conservative for the Matron. Winter Hats, Bullock Hats at $7.50.
—Remember it. Bullock's Annual November Sale of Hats at $7.50—tomorrow, Wednesday. One of the most important events of the year at Bullock's—to interpret that Bullock Ideal of Service which is winning confidence through Merit.
—Tomorrow—the day—at Bullock's—Third Floor.

INSURANCE AGENTS' BUSINESS MENAGED.
FEAR LOSS OF LIVELIHOOD IF AMENDMENT FAVORING BANKS DEFEATED.
The livelihood of more than 40,000 fire insurance agents in California will be put in jeopardy if amendment No. 14, known as the Insurance and Banking Act, is defeated, according to a statement yesterday by the local insurance men's association. Explaining why this amendment should be supported at today's election, Alexander MacKinnon, representing the insurance men, said: "The last Legislature, by a large majority, passed a bill preventing State banks from acting as general agents or managers of fire insurance companies. Our national laws have always prevented national banks from doing an insurance business except in towns of 5000 or less population. The law passed by our State Legislature granted the same privilege to State banks. The bill in question was signed by the Governor. Its operation was held up by referendum. The entire situation has been brought about through the efforts of just one bank, a large San Francisco institution with branches throughout the State. "Fire insurance agents realize that if this law is beaten, and banks generally go into the insurance business, it will be only a question of time when practically every small agent will be forced out of business."
SEE VICTORY FOR SIX.
Officials of Public School Protective League Sanghane.
Predicting the passage today of Constitutional Amendment No. 8 prohibiting compulsory vaccination officers of the Public School Protective League, which is sponsoring the measure, pointed out last night that no bill has been introduced in the Legislature since 1913 to prohibit compulsory vaccination or even on the subject of vaccination.
Douglas L. Edmonds, counsel for the league, says that according to the records of the State Board of Health, over 40 per cent of the parents of California school children are opposed to vaccination. He states that "it is to stop the illegal and unauthorized exclusions possible under the present law," that the proposed amendment was submitted to the voters.
URGES TIME TO VOTE.
Mayor Snyder yesterday gave out the following statement urging employers to give their employees opportunity to vote:
"At tomorrow's election the citizens of Los Angeles are called upon to ballot on many important questions and on candidates for county, State and national offices, and I respectfully urge all merchants, manufacturers and other employers of labor, to grant their employees ample time to go to the polls and cast their ballot."
CHAMBER GETS OWN WIRE.
Up-to-the-minute election returns, flashed from a special wire, will be received at the Chamber of Commerce tonight for the benefit of the members. Arrangements have also been made for the announcement of the results of local issues. A musical program will be furnished and refreshments will be served.
MERCHANT BANKRUPT.
Charles M. Davis, a San Diego merchant, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday, giving his debts as $2945.66 and his assets as $138.

Pa-do GAS HEATERS

are not cheap. They cost more than a tin gas heater because they are made of cast iron. For the same reason they last a great many years longer than a tin heater.

They cost more than the ordinary, smelly gas heater because they are equipped with a retort containing a chemical compound that absorbs all obnoxious fumes, leaving pure, warm air.

BUT— They can be installed wherever gas is available without the expense of cutting vents or flues to the outside. They use less gas in heating a room than the ordinary gas heater. This saving makes up the difference in cost in a surprisingly short time.

Big companies, who carefully watch their expenses, use the RA-DO because it actually does save them money. Among them are: F. W. WOOLWORTH CO.; SAN FRANCISCO SHIPBUILDING CO.; GOODYEAR TIRE AND RUBBER CO.; UNITED DRUG CO.; and the PACIFIC TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CO.

You can have the year-after-year comfort, convenience and economy of the RA-DO at only a slight increase over the purchasing price of an ordinary gas heater. Honestly now, isn't it worth it?

SUBPOENAS OUT IN DENTON CASE.

Sixteen Witnesses Called of Prosecution's Forty.

Surprise Angles Guarded for Dismay of Defense.

Husband Takes Flowers, Gifts to Mrs. Peete in Jail.

Actual preparations for the Denton murder trial were started by Dist. Atty. Woodhull yesterday, when subpoenas for sixteen witnesses were issued and delivered to a number of investigators for service.

The sixteen witnesses are the first of the men and women to be called by the prosecution. In all, at least forty witnesses will be called by the prosecution before the case goes to the jury, it became apparent from the evidence known to be in possession of the District Attorney's office.

Those for whom subpoenas were issued yesterday were Mrs. Mamie Tilton, Mrs. O. A. Wood, Miss Ruth Wood, Mrs. Oda Aument, Dr. A. F. Wagner, Dr. Frank R. Webb, Dr. Lyman B. Stookey, James Wilton Crowhurst, Miss Frances Denton, Mrs. Sarah Denton, H. A. Coombes, Edwin C. Atkins, M. W. Armstrong, A. Slavick, Floyd Baxter, and Paul H. Aumont.

Every witness served with the subpoena will be cautioned not to talk to any one regarding the testimony he is to give in the case, and particularly warned against any discussion of the trial as a surprise.

The new evidence uncovered by Dep. Dist. Atty. Turner in a nearby city Sunday is said to be of considerable importance, and will be introduced at the trial as a surprise.

That other bits of evidence, not now known to the defense, will figure largely in the trial, was learned from an outside source yesterday. Neither Mr. Turner nor Dist. Atty. Woodhull, or his chief deputy, William C. Duran, wanted to discuss this phase of the case yesterday.

Mrs. Peete spent another comparatively comfortable day at the County Jail. She was visited by Richard C. Peete, her husband, and given a number of packages and gifts of flowers, during the day. Mr. and Mrs. Peete talked together for more than two hours. After leaving the jail, Mr. Peete went to the office of W. J. Ford, where Mr. Ford and W. J. Van Nostran, associated in the case as attorneys for Mrs. Peete, held a consultation with the husband of the accused woman.

The grand jury transcript will be ready late today or tomorrow, and will be delivered to Mr. Ford as soon as possible, the District Attorney's office announced yesterday. The testimony of a dozen witnesses before the grand jury will then become available to Mr. Ford. After study of this testimony, on which the grand jury indicted Mrs. Peete, Mr. Ford and Mr. Van Nostran may give out a detailed statement, presenting for the first time, their client's side of the case.

the Northern District at once to enforce the law.

After considerable delay an armed force consisting chiefly of Tagal Indians was sent toward the Northern District, and after considerable interchange of diplomatic communications Gov. Carranza consented to step out and Luis Salazar was named as temporary Governor. He was succeeded by Gov. Manuel Alarcon who will soon be succeeded by Sanor Almada.

Senor Almada has lived in this city for a number of years. He was born in Mexico, received his education there, and was for several years a merchant there. During the early years of the Carranza regime he was purchasing agent in this country for the Carranza government. Later he accompanied Gen. Obregon on a diplomatic tour of this country, visiting Washington and other important cities.

Mr. Bishop says the charges made by Mr. Krahn are false.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Business on the stock market was irregular in movement and contracted in volume, as was to be expected in view of the holiday in London and tomorrow's suspension of operations in all the markets of this country. Events over the week-end presented no change from recent conflicting conditions. The stronger returns of the legal Federal and clearing-house banks were offset by advisory emphasizing further reactionary tendencies in trade and commerce.

From western points came reports of greater conservatism on the part of producers, based on the hesitant attitude of consumers and decrease of railway tonnage from that of the corresponding period of last year. Further private price cutting was reported by steel manufacturers and open reductions were announced for copper, lead and zinc.

Crucible steel and United Fruit were heavy movers of the session, on adverse dividend rumors, but both rallied in the later dealings, declaration of a stock dividend of 100 per cent for fruit causing short covering throughout the general list. Sales amounted to $50,000 shares.

In the bond market price tendencies were upward. Internationals were steady. Total sales, par value, $12,840,000 were advanced States bonds were unchanged on call.
